MATERIAL PURCHASED FOR THE CANAL

Statement of Chairman Shonts on the Subject.

MR. FERGUSON'S CHARGES

Analyzed and Refuted in Each Particular.

HE IS SIMPLY SEEKING REVENGE

For His Discharge From the Isthmian Canal Service, According to Report of Chief Engineer Stevens.

canal commission to President Roosevelt, relative to the interview in The Star last Sunday with L. W. Ferguson as to condi-Mr. Shonts gives a report of Chief Engineer grave inefficiency; that his record was bad legations. Mr. Shonts then continues:

Sunday with L. W. Ferguson as to conditions on the canal, was made public today.

Mr. Shonts gives a report of Chief Engineer Stevens, stating that Mr. Ferguson was discharged as a locomotive engineer for grave inefficiency; that his record was bad and he is simply seeking revenge in his allegations. Mr. Shonts then continues:

"Mr. Ferguson makes the statement that most of the redwood used on the isthmus is purchased in New York at a cost of $40 per thousand feet. The commission has never purchased in New York, or forwarded from New York, a single foot of redwood. The only redwood purchased since June 1, 1905, was ordered from the Albien Lumber Company, San Francisco, Cal., August 16, 1906, the prices ranging from $24.50 per thousand feet for 1 inch x 8 inch under—

"Mr. Herguson makes the statement that manager of the commission and general manager of the Panama railroad. The commission and general manager of the Panama railroad. The price paid was $12.350 each, delivered on the isthmus. It was obtained after competition and was a reasonable price as compared with the prices charged for locomotives of similar weight in this country.

As to the cheese which Mr. Ferguson says price of 41 cents per pound was paid, the cheese being for use in rat traps: No requisition was received for such cheese and none was purchased. A number of rat traps were purchased in July last on requisition from the sanitation department as one necessary means of suppressing a threatening outbreak of bubonic plague.

The locomotives referred to by Mr. Ferguson were purchased by the Panama rail-road, a total of twenty-four having been ordered in April last of a type selected by Mr. J. F. Wallace, who was then chief engineer of the commission and general manager of the Panama rail-road. The price paid was $12.350 each, delivered on the isthmus. It was obtained after competition and was a reasonable price as compared with the prices charged for locomotives of similar weight in this country.

As to the cheese which Mr. Ferguson as to the lo $40 per thousand feet. The commission has never purchased in New York, or forwarded from New York, a single foot of redwood. 1905, was ordered from the Albien Lumber Company, San Francisco, Cal., August 16, 1905, the prices ranging from $24.50 per thousand feet for 1 inch x 8 inch underflooring to $27 per thousand feet for 6 inch x 6 inch, 6 inch x 8 inch and 8 inch x 8 inch material for a total of 131,656 feet, and $41 to $43 per thousand feet for redwood finishing lumber, surfaced four sides, for a total of 51,221 feet. All of this redwood was shipped from San Francisco and the prices above named covered delivery on the isthmus.

No Yellow Pine From New York.

"Of the yellow pine referred to not a single foot has been shipped from New York as stated by Mr. Ferguson, all having been chipped from New Orleans, Gulfport, Mobile or Pensacola. Practically all of the yellow pine purchased since June last has been leaf yellow pine, most of it surfaced material, costing delivered on the isthmus from $28 to $28.20 per thousand. The freight on this yellow pine from the mills in the court, to the isthmus approximates nearly of the grade known as No. 1 common, longone-half the price of the lumber delivered on the isthmus; in other words, if it were purchased at the mill the cost would be about one-half the prices above named. The June last has been about 8,000,000 feet. Since June 1, the commission has also pur-chased about 25,000,000 feet of Douglas fir iber at prices ranging from $17.25 to per thousand feet, delivered on the isthmus, all of which was shipped from

Puget sound. You will note that while the heading of the newspaper article refers to the cost of pig fron at $5.20 per 100 pounds, Mr. Ferguson's statement refers to the cost of piz lead being $5.20 per 100 pounds. As the commission has a large quantity of gray iron scrap on the isthmus, which is being used in its foundries, it has not had to purchase much pig iron. The only purchases of pig iron made since June 1 last have been 100 tons on June 13, at price of $20.80 per ton of 2,240 pounds delivered on the sthmus, and one of 200 tons, on June 23, at price of $19.75 per ton of 2.240 pounds, delivered on the fsthmus. The plg iron in question is what is known as "No. 3 foundry," and was shipped from Birmingham, Ala. The price of No. 2 foundry pig iron at Birmingham, Ala., in May, 1905, at the time bids on the two lots of plg iron in question were made, as quoted in the Iron Age, ranged from $13 to $13.50 per ton and as the freight from Birmingham, Ala. to Colon was not less than $7 to $7.50 per ton, the prices paid for delivery at Col-were undoubtedly reasonable. Pig Lead and Other Material.

In reference to the pig lead, which Mr. Ferguson states is used in large quantities at a cost of $5,20 per 100, on July 6 last we purchased 221,000 pounds at price of $3.38 per 100 pounds; on August 5 we purchased 200,000 pounds at price of $3.60 per 100 pounds; on November 3, 4,000 pounds at price of $3.93 per 100 pounds, and on December 27, 5,000 pounds at price of $4.97 per 100 pounds; all of these prices covering delivery on the isthmus. All of the lead in question was shipped from Europe. If it had been shipped from the United States the prices would have been higher, as the prices for pig lead in this country, as shown in the Iron Age, have been increasing from $4.45 per 160 pounds at St. Lou's and $4.50 per 100 pounds at New York in July last, to $5.80 per 100 pounds at St. Louis and $5.95 per 100 pounds at New York in December last.

As to the block tin which Mr. Ferguson says is used at 18 cents per pound, I am sorry that we have not been able to pur-chase much at such a low price. On July 7 we purchased 1,200 pounds at 311-6 cents pound, delivered on the isthmus, and on cents per pound, delivered on the isthmus. In July the market price on block tin in New York was from 30½ to 31 cents per in November the market price in New York was 33 cents per pound, and the present market price of block tin in New York is about 36% cents per pound. The price of tin has advanced quite ste "ly during the past year. As a matter of act, we did pur-chase 2.000 pounds of block tin in May last at the price of 18 cents per pound, delivered on the isthmus, and obliged the contractor that price, although after putting in his bid he tried to withdraw it. and said that through some unaccountable mistake their price had been quoted at one-half the price they intended.

As to the steel rail which Mr. Ferguson says cost $27 per ton. The actual cost of steel rail purchased during the past year by the commission was $26.45 per tor livered alongside vessel at Sparrows Point or Baltimore, while during the same period the standard price to railroads in this country for steel rail has been $28 per ton at the mill. In the case of the rail purchased by us at $26.45 per ton, delivered alongside vessel at Sparrows Point or Baltimore, the rail mills had to pay the freight from the mill to the seaport. Mr. Ferguson states that we are paying 800 cents per pair for angle bars. As the angle bars which we are using weigh about sixty-six pounds per pair, the price he men-tions is a very reasonable one, as it is at the rate of about $1.25 per hundred pounds. while the present market price of angle bars at the mill in this country is $1.50 per hundred pounds. The angle bars purchased by the commission during the past year cost from $1.85 to $1.40 per hundred pounds, delivered alongside vessel at Sparrows Point or Baltimore.

Only Twenty-Four Wheelbarrows.

No. 16,603.

WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1906-TWENTY-EIGHT PAGES.

MAKING UP TO LOOK THE PART.

TWO CENTS.

we purchased sixty wooden tray wheelbar-rows at a price of $1.60 each delivered on the isthmus; on June 13 last we purchased 700 steel tray wheelbarrows with wooden legs and handles at $1.74 each delivered on the isthmus; on July 15 we purchased twenty-four tubular all-steel wheelbarrows, the tray, legs and handles all being made of steel, of considerably larger capacity than the other wheelbarrows mentioned, as they were wanted for a special purpose, at price twenty-four were purchased, instead of several thousand, as stated by Mr. Ferguson.

As to the linseed oil mentioned: We paid 52 cents per gallon for raw and 53 cents per gallon for boiled linseed oil on July 7 last, these prices covering delivery on the isthmus. At the same time the prices quoted in the Iron Age for delivery at New York were from 50 to 51 cents for raw and from 52 to 53 cents for boiled linseed oil. On the last order, issued about February 1, we paid 48 cents per gallon for raw and 49 cents per gallon for boiled linseed oil delivered on the isthmus. At the same time the market price for linseed oil delivered in New York ran from 44 to 45 cents raw and from 45 to 46 cents per gallon for bolled linseed oil.

Linseed oil fluctuates in price almost daily and could be purchased now from 2 to 3 cents per gallon less than when our last purchase was made.
 As to the engine and valve oil which Mr.

As to the engine and valve oil which Mr. Ferguson states is used at 55 cents per gallon: The only purchase of such oil made since June last was one of 7,000 gallons of valve oil and 10,000 gallons of engine oil purchased August 9, 1905, at price of 14 cents per gallon delivered on the isthmus. As to the cotton waste mentioned by Mr. Ferguson: The prices paid since June last have been from 5¼ cents per pound for good grade of colored cotton waste to 8 cents per pound for a high grade of white cotton waste, which prices, for the quality of waste obtained, were entirely reasonable. A great variety of prices can be obtained on waste, depending on the qualities and quantities wanted. quantities wanted.

The Men Mentioned.

As to the several men Mr. Ferguson says Mr. Tubby, through the recommendation of Mr. Wallace's son, brought to the isthmus for his own private use from various railroad offices and dry goods stores in the states without civil service examinations. Mr. W. G. Tubby was appointed chief of the division of material and supplies on November 14, 1905, and none of the men in question were recommended to him by Mr. Wallace or his son; in fact, I do not think Mr. Tubby is acquainted with Mr. Wallace or his son. Mr. Tubby brought with him only one of the men named by Mr. Ferguson-Mr. Frank P. Wright, who was ap-Mr. Ferguson states is receiving $3,000 per year, was appointed August 12, 1905, as an accountant at $1,500 per year, and our resalary.

We have no record of Mr. J. S. McIshley, whom Mr. Ferguson says is receiving $2.40 per year, but have record of Mr. J. S. Mc Hhenny, who was appointed August 12, 1905, at a salary of $1,500 per year.

Mr. Harry Leonard, whom Mr. Ferguson says was a dry goods clerk, was appointed October 17, 1904, as clerk at $75 per month. He was appointed chief clerk in the division of material and supplies June 1, 1905, at $2,000. His salary was increased on November 1, 1905, to $2,500, and he is now assistant chief clerk in the office of the chief of the division of material and supplies. All of the men mentioned, with the exception of Harry Leonard, who was appointed before the civil service rules were effective. were appointed without civil service examinations, but their appointments were allowed and approved by the civil service commission on account of special qualifica-tions and no eligibles on the civil service lists.

STATEHOOD'S NEXT STEP

HOUSE WILL NOT TAKE UP THE QUESTION BEFORE THE 19TH.

The House leaders have decided to "stand pat" in defense of the statehood bill as it was passed by the House originally. They will not accept the amendments of the Senate and will push the bill through the usual parliamentary proceedings until it reaches the conference committee, when the House conferees will insist upon disagreeing to the Senate amendments.

It is said that the House leaders have no fear of their ability to command sufficient votes to prevent concurrence in the Senate amendments, and that the old insurgent forces will not be as strong as they were in the first proceedings on the bill.

What effect this stand will have on the ultimate fate of the bill can only be conjectured at this time. There is declared to be no possibility of the Senate yielding to joint statehood, and either all legislation on the subject would seem to be improbable or the House will admit Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

The question will not be taken up by the House until the return of the members of the rivers and harbors committee, who are making a trip of inspection through the south. These members will not return un-til March 19. Before they left an agreement was reached that nothing should be done with statehood until their return.
When the bill comes over from the Senate the program contemplates a motion to "disagree" and ask for a conference. This motion will be made by Mr. Hamilton. It is thought that Mr. Babcock will interpose a motion to concur in the Senate amendments. The vote will come on this motion first, and the result of the vote will reveal the strength of the respective sides.

Those opposing statehood for Arizona and New Mexico in the House have maintained all along that if opportunity was given for a direct vote on the specific question, and not, as was the case on the necessity of defeating a rule direct from the Speaker's

A TERRIBLE DISASTER REPORT-ED FROM PARIS TODAY.

PARIS. March 10 .- A terrible catastrophe has occurred at a coal mine in the Courrieres district of the Pas-de-Calais, eighteen miles from Bethune. An explosion of gas has killed many miners, and three chambers of the mine are on fire.

The number of victims is not known, but 1,800 miners descended into the pit this morning. The explosion occurred at 7 o'clock this morning.

The first reports which reached the ministry of public works anounced that it was impossible to calculate even ap-proximately the number of victims, but was hoped that most of the miners had sought refuge in the lateral galleries. In the three chambers in which the explosion took place the violence of the fire was such that flames issued from the mouth of the pit. The minister of public works, M. Gau-tier, immediately ordered M. Delafond, in-spector general of mines, to proceed to the scene of the disaster, and the minister of the interior, M. Dubief, will follow later to adopt measures for the relief of the families of the victims.

SESSION LASTED HALF HOUR

Delegates Getting Together on Important Issues - Predicted Adjournment After Three Sittings.

ALGECIRAS, Spain, March 10 .- The session of the Moroccan conference today lasted half an hour. When the proposed Moroccan bank was discussed Germany suggested that the administrators be chosen by the banks of England, France, Spain and the Imperial German Bank. The question of partitioning the shares among the powers was left undecided.

The pelice question was also discussed and was then referred to the committee of redaction. Previous to this Germany proposed that an English secretary be added to this committee, which was agreed to. The tone of the deliberations of the delegates today was particularly conciliating.

Labors Nearly Ended.

Special Cablegram to The Star. MADRID, March 10.-Premier Moret told the chamber of deputies today that he was convinced the Moroccan conference would conclude its labors in three more sittings. EUGENE RICHTER DEAD.

Radical Leader in German Reichstag Since Its Foundation. BERLIN, March 10.-Eugene Richter, radical leader in the reichstag since its foundation, Bismarck's old opponent, and a long-time editor of the Freisinnige Zeitung, died at 4 o'clock this morning. Near the close of 1904 Richter suddenly retired from the Freisinnige Zeltung, which he founded, and at the same time ceased to appear at the reichstag. He was then in fee-ble health and threatened with the loss of his eyesight.

Herr Richter, who was enfeebled by an filness of two years, and who had been blind for a year, died of heart failure. He was the last notable parliamentary jour-nalistic figure of the formative period of the empire. As a leader of one of the free-minded or radical parties he once numbered Profs. Virchow and Mommsen among his lieutemants, but, owing to the drift of political opinion and the growth of socialism, the party sank from a million votes and sixty-seven seats in the reichstag to twenty-one seats.

It was always a surprise to his admirers that Herr Richter's immense talents as an organizer, parliamentary tactician, popular agitator, debater and inexorable analyst of public questions had not raised him to greater influence in the count y. Those who opposed Herr Richter said he was a man of chimeras and negations, seeking to attain for Germany the British responsible ministerial system while attacking every constructive measure. He was Prince Bis marck's passionate opponent.

The great chancellor felt so sensitively Herr Richter's attacks on him in the reich-stag that he wanted to light a duel with his tormentor, and finally the chancellor always left the house when kichter rese to speak. His opposition to the naval bill of 1893 caused Prof. Mommson, Herr Parth, editor of the Nation, and about a third of the others of the party to secode from the moderate radical group, Hats were smashed, noses bloodied and eyes blackened. The arrival of the police stopped the fight. Only one picture of Mr. Walsh was taken, but the chances are that the camera that took it will never be used again.

LIABILITY OF EMPLOYERS.

House Judiciary Committee Will Re-

Minimum Expense Under the Foster, Gallinger, Goulden and Platt Measures Greater Than Babcock Bill.

Superintendent of Schools Stuart, testifying today before the Morrell subcommittee, which is inquiring into the public school system of the District, made the positive assertion, backed by statistics, that the comparative cost of supervision in this city was extremely low. In a list of thirty of the largest cities in the United States the cost of supervision in Washington was lowest. The members of the subcommittee, in view of the repeated statements of witnesses that the local system was topheavy with supervision, appeared greatly interested in Mr. Stuart's presentation of the case. Moreover, it appeared from Mr. Stuart's statement that the cost of supervision in Washington includes salarles of superintendent, assistant superintendents, director of high schools, director of manual training schools, supervising principals, all directors and assistant directors and all special teachers who have supervision of the work of grade teachers.

The cities mentioned by Dr. Stuart, with their relative cost of school supervision, are given below and form a very interest-

Another interesting feature of Supt. Stuart's testimony was the comparison made by him of the working cest of the Babbock, Foster, Gallinger, Goulden and Cost Under Proposed Bills. "The minimum cost," said Supt. Squart, "of supervision, including the superintendent, assistant superintendents, group principals or supervising principals and all directors of special work as provided by the Foster bill is $20,700, or 44.8 per cent more than that of the Babcock bill. "The minimum cost of supervision, including the superintendent, assistant superintendents, group principals or supervising principals and all directors of special work as provided by the Gallinger bill is $18,650.

"The minimum cost of supervision, in-cluding the superintendent, assistant superintendent, group principals or supervising principals and all directors of special work as provided by the Platt bill is $20,900, or 31.5 per cent more than that of the Babcock bill. A further comparison of the figures presented by Mr. Stuart shows that the Babcock bill provides for thirty-two supervisors and will involve the expenditure in salaries of a minimum of $66,150 and a maximum of $87,750; the Fester bill provides for forty-seven supervisors, and the minimum expenditure involved is $95,850 and the maximum 101,250, and the Goulden bill provides for forty supervisors at a minimum expenditure of $78,050 and a maximum of $97,250. Mrs. Gitterman's Explanation.

When the subcommittee met this morning Mrs. Gitterman continued her testimony of yesterday afternoon. She took up the question of supervision, charging that there was much less economy of supervision in Washington than in the representative cities of the country. Mrs. Gitterman pointed out were not found in the high schools. referring again to the question of supervision, Mrs. Gitterman claimed that the system here amounted not only to a double but to a triple supervision.

Superintendent of Schools Stuart, referring to the statement made yesterday by Mrs. Gitterman as to the cost of "supervision" in the local school system, said that it was entirely inaccurate, being more than $60,000 out of the way. Mrs. Gitterman had included in the cost of supervision the salaries of all superintendents of buildings. while, as Supt. Stuart pointed out, these eighth-grade principals of buildings were nothing more than class teachers. The $50 a year additional paid to principals of buildings and the amounts paid to their assistants should be the only other amounts included in the cost of supervision. Chairman Morrell at this point indicated that this was just the way the subcommittee felt about it.

DIRECTED TO REMAIN.

Isthmian Canal Commission Will Not Leave on the 20th.

Secretary Taft has written a letter to Mr. Shonts, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, in which he says:

"Awaiting action of Congress in respect to the type of canal and upon other matters being investigated by it, the President directs me to say that the members of the commission should remain in Washington and not take their proposed trip to the isthmus on the 20th of this month in order to hold their regular quarterly meeting there on the 1st of April.

"Until Congress has acted it will be impossible to say what will be needed for expenditure during the next fiscal year, and the presence of the members of the commission will then be needed in Washington to decide upon the proper estimates.
